Dalai Lama

Dalai Lama means “Ocean of Wisdom”. He is the head monk of Tibetan Buddhism and in the past was in charge of ruling the country of Tibet.

Buddhists believe that the Dalai Lama is the reincarnation of the previous one, who is reborn to continue his work.

Dalai Lama

The current Dalai Lama is the 14th and was born in 1935.

He was three years old when he was found and five when he enrolled at the local monastery.

Tibet was considered to be part of China by some and the Chinese government decided to bring it under their control.

Dalai Lama

When the army arrived, thousands of people protested and were killed.

The Dalai Lama feared for his life, so he had to leave Tibet and move to India.

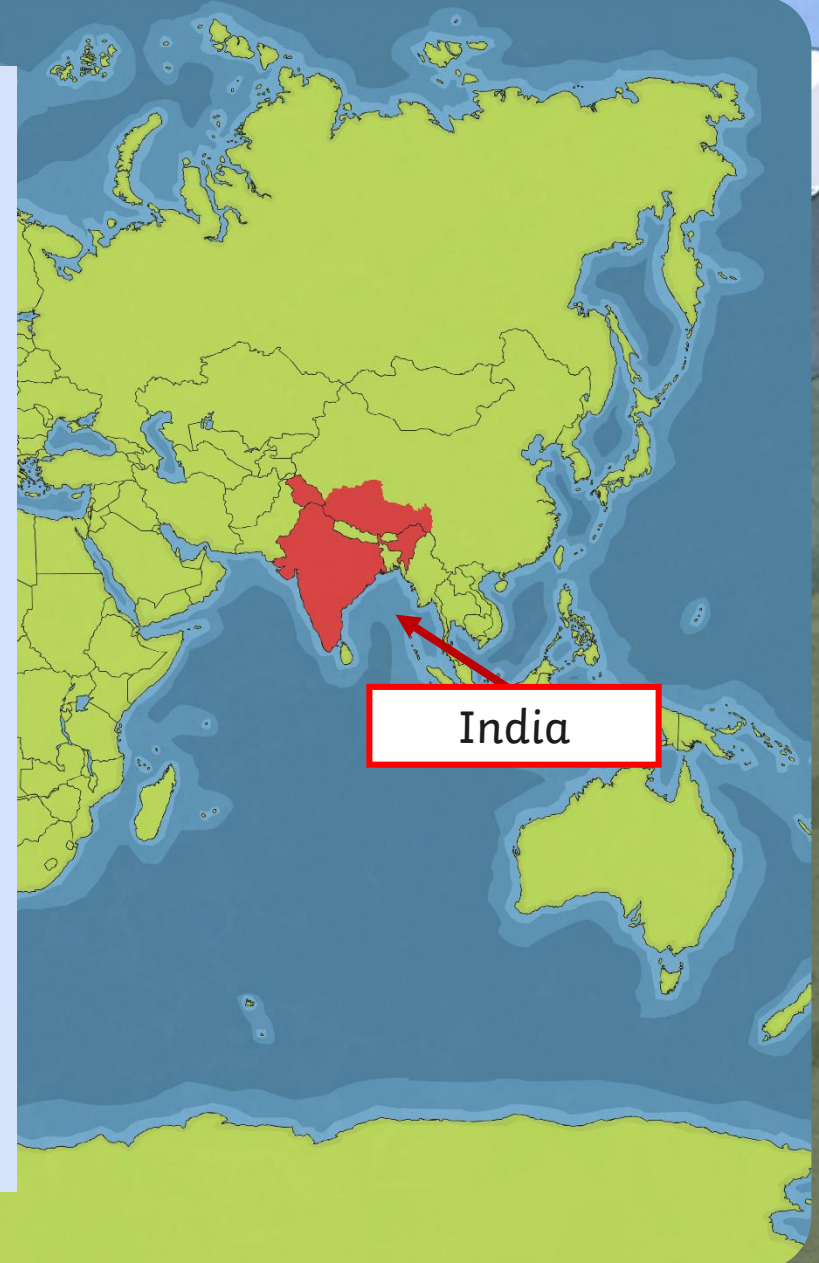

The Dalai Lama continues to work to free the Tibetan people, so they can rule themselves.

He continues to spread the Buddhist message around the world and even has a Twitter account!
